It's Official!

The Certificate of Completion for our new library site has been issued by the WV Department of Environmental Protection, and the Land Use Covenant has been recorded with the Jefferson County Clerk. The former dump site is now, officially, beautiful and clean.

We want to, once again, thank those who helped make our cleanup project such a huge success: The Benedum Foundation, Environmental Protection Agency, Nora Roberts Foundation,

West Virginia Library Commission, WV Delegates and Senators, and many key individual donors for funding the project; the Northern WV Brownfields Assistance Center at West Virginia University for its invaluable guidance throughout the process; Arcland Properties, Triad Engineering, and Snyder Environmental Services for performing the necessary project oversight, removal of site contaminants, soil sampling, and reporting; the Town Council of Shepherdstown, and the Jefferson County Development Authority.

On behalf of our wee patrons, thank you to all the parents and patrons who gave so generously to our Children's Department over the last two months. With your help, we were able to purchase a new collection of super cool and durable toys and games.
